We have a passion for helping others know what they are eating.

We both work off farm, but are growing our farming enterprise and look forward to the day when that will be our sole support.

We farm using natural, sustainable methods. We are very curious about growing different foods and always ready to try something new.

This profile is one in a series of nine designed by Jessica Serio, Junior, Waldorf College, photos by Images Photography, Clear Lake, IA and supported by a USDA Farmers Market Promotion Program grant, coordinated by Healthy Harvest of North Iowa, www.northiowafood.org
